

ევროკავშირი
საქართველოსთვის
EU4Justice: მართლმსაჯულების რეფორმის შარლატერა

აქიზის უნივერსიტეტის
ჯიორჯია ინსტიტუტი
NATIONAL INSTITUTE FOR HUMAN RIGHTS

supported by giz
Deutsche Gesellschaft
für Internationale
Zusammenarbeit (GIZ) GmbH

Public Discussion on the Judgment

“CITIZEN OF GEORGIA NODAR DVALI V. THE PARLIAMENT OF GEORGIA”

November 8, 17:30

Hotel IOTA, Lermontovi 10

Tbilisi, Georgia

National Institute for Human Rights of Free University in cooperation with the Constitutional Court of Georgia presents public discussion on the Judgment of October 17, 2017 on presumption of credibility of public registry data.

Public discussion is a special opportunity for further wide professional analysis of important Judgments of the Constitutional Court. Judges of the Constitutional Court, constitutional law scholars, legislators, professors and students participate in the discussion.

The public discussion format is supported by EU4Justice Judiciary Support Project and GIZ.

Format of Discussion

Moderator presents the case and the authors of the Judgment review the argumentation presented in the case. The position of an applicant will be presented by an invited expert, followed by presentations of key speakers. At the end of the session discussion will take place with active participation of attending audience.

- Moderator - David Zedelashvili, Researcher at National Institute for Human rights, associated professor at Free University of Tbilisi;
- Judge of Constitutional Court of Georgia – Teimuraz Tughushi, chairperson of the second chamber
- Giorgi Batlidze, BLC Georgia partner, Lecturer of Free University of Tbilisi;
- Vano Gogelia, “PwC Georgia” -Head of legal department, Lecturer at Free University of Tbilisi

პროექტს ახორციელებს Human Dynamics